November 2017

A Message from the Principal:

Two months have passed and all our students and teachers are engaged in learning. Over the last few weeks, we have had many parents needing to drop something off or give a message to their child. In order to not interrupt classes and for safety reasons, we ask that parents check in and wait at the office while school is in session (8:35 to 2:35). It will be our pleasure to help you.

When teachers are interrupted, it can sometimes be hard to regain students' attention. Students often get distracted and will start talking to a friend while the teacher is busy talking to a parent. After the interruption, the teacher has to refocus themselves as well as the class. These interruptions cut the flow of a lesson or a project. By stopping at the office and leaving a message, we can contact the student at the most convenient time, depending on the emergency. This courtesy is appreciated by all our teachers.

Also, while your child knows you, you are a stranger to most of our students. Although we realize that you are a parent from the school, our students (especially the younger ones) don't understand why there would be a stranger in the halls during school. We also have to be aware of every adult coming into our building during school hours so that all our students are safe. When there are parents in halls, administration and teachers have to check to make sure the person has a purpose and that takes them away from their work causing an interruption.

This holds true for the end of the day when parents come to get their child at school. Our school was built to hold approximately 450 students. We are at capacity and the halls are already crowded with our students alone. If we add parents to the mix, that makes for some overcrowding. We ask that all parents arrange a meeting point with their children outside and wait for them at the predetermined meeting point. If it is an emergency or a last minute change of plan, let us know and we can page your child to the office for you. This will avoid you trying to thread through hundreds of students trying to find your child.

Finally, when taking your children out of school early, please remember to sign them out on the green sheet at the office. In case of an emergency, we need to be able to locate all our students.

Thank you for your cooperation.

Dare to Care 's four components to bully-proofing a school:

1. Teaching the Concept of Bullying
2. Building a Caring Community
3. Mobilizing a Caring Majority
4. Teaching Strategies to Deal with Bullying

Immobilizing Bullies

Dare to Care, an organization that supports schools in becoming free of bullies, came to Lloyd George in October. Kim, the facilitator, worked with the grade 7s at their retreat at McQueen Lake, held a grade 3 to 6 assembly, worked with grade-level groups, presented a staff workshop, and hosted an evening session for parents. What a tremendous two days we had.

In school every year, children are faced with different types of conflict. This conflict often makes students better citizens by helping them to learn from these situations, gaining an understanding of others' perspectives, and developing empathy. There are times, however, that behaviours become bullying in nature. It is important to understand the difference between conflict and bullying so next steps can be taken.

BUILDING A CARING COMMUNITY

The diamond below represents a school community. At the very top of the diamond are the bullies. Bullies generally make up about 6% of students in schools. That is a very low number in comparison to all the other students. At the very bottom of the diamond you will see the targets, approximately 15% of students.

IS IT BULLYING?

Before labeling a situation as bullying, consider the following:

- When someone says or does something unintentionally hurtful and they do it once, that's rude.
- When someone says or does something intentionally hurtful and they do it once, that's mean.
- When someone says or does something intentionally hurtful and they keep doing it - even when you tell them to stop or show them that you're upset, that's bullying.

Whether it is rude, mean, or bullying behaviour, we are here to support students. If a situation has arisen that your child has not been able to resolve, please let us know. We are here to help students with all levels of hurt - physical, emotional, and psychological.

A third section of the diamond is the band termed "caring". This is situated directly below the bullies. These students are the ones who stand up to the bullies and are termed the "silent minority" because they show caring behaviour toward the targets by standing up for them or showing empathy. The largest part of the diamond consists of all the other students. These students are called the "silent majority" and are the ones who can make a significant difference. It is through our work in school that we teach students how to change from a silent minority to a caring majority.

Immobilizing Bullies

MOBILIZING A CARING MAJORITY

Students benefit from being taught how to stand up to bullying. The first step is to not be a target. There are two types of targets

Passive Targets - most common type, generally unable to defend themselves, cry and react easily

Provocative Targets - less common, often children who irritate or tease others and don't know how to stop, sometimes make others feel as they they deserve it

Second, students can unite together to stand up to bullying behaviours. This will change the diamond from having a silent majority to a caring majority. It is challenging for the first student to say something to a bully, but if others stand up together, it makes students feel safer. A bully is in it for the power. With many students telling him/her to stop, the bully will usually back down because his/her power has been taken away.

Bullying is not a school problem;
it is a societal problem.

HOW TO DEAL WITH A BULLY

Use the following acronym HA HA SO to help your child deal with a bully.

H - Help - go and ask an adult for help

A - Assert Yourself - tell the bully to stop

H - Humour - not as easy to use, but can be used in some situations

A - Avoid - stay away from the situation; walk away

S - Self-Talk - tell yourself something good

O - Own It - not as commonly used, but admit your faults, use humour if possible

Normal Conflict:

- Equal power - friends
- Happens occasionally
- Accidental
- Not serious
- Equal emotional reaction
- Not seeking power or attention
- Not trying to get something
- Remorse - takes responsibility
- Effort to solve the problem

Bullying:

- Imbalance of power
- Repeated negative actions
- Purposeful/intentional
- Serious - threat of physical harm or emotional or psychological hurt
- Strong emotional reaction by the target
- Seeking power, control
- Trying to gain material things
- No remorse - blames target
- No effort to solve the problem

NOTES FROM THE PUBLIC MEETING OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION

October 23, 2017

CONSENT AGENDA

- o Remembrance Day assignments.

Details of the consent agenda can be found on the public agenda.

EDUCATION TOPIC

The Board congratulated the successful participants of this year's Leadership Development Program. The two-year program, which started in Kamloops nearly 50 years ago, is designed to develop the District's future leaders from within the ranks of current employees. This year, 10 teachers completed the two-year program. The LDP integrates courses, TRU-based instruction, senior leader mentorship and in-school practicums to develop leadership and enhanced pedagogical skills.

PUBLIC INQUIRIES

City Coun. Arjun Singh introduced the Board to seven secondary students from schools across the city who are the inaugural members of a newly formed student city council. The students - will address, debate and provide insight into City issues and the decisions made by council, particularly those issues that are important to youth. The group asked to the Board about the possibility of forming a similar student school board. Trustees agreed the initiative would provide interesting opportunities to engage students while providing the Board with valuable insights from young people.

REPORTS FROM SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

DISTRICT LEARNING PLAN – The Board heard a presentation from senior staff regarding the district learning plan, which is the high-level document that sets the educational direction District staff will follow. The plan identifies trends based on student success rates, and offers new directions for education stemming from the B.C. government's revised curriculum, the District's new five-year strategic plan and the Aboriginal Education Enhancement Agreement. The Board was told the implementation of the plan will lead to better strategies and structures to improve outcomes and benefit all of the District's students.

ENROLMENT INCREASE ANALYSIS – The District’s data shows the net number of students coming to School District No. 73 has increased this year. The majority of those new students came from other districts in B.C. but significant numbers of new students also came from other provinces as well as from independent schools. The number of international students is also up significantly.

ENROLMENT COMPARISON BY SCHOOL – The Board was provided a school-by-school breakdown of enrolment numbers across the district. Twenty-seven schools have more students than last year, with the largest increases being seen at Sa-Hali and Valleyview secondary schools, as well as Aberdeen, Kay Bingham, McGowan Park and Westmount elementary schools.

OUT-OF-PROVINCE FIELD TRIP – The Board unanimously approved an out-of-province field trip for NorKam Secondary Grade 11 and 12 biology school students, who intend to travel to Hawaii for a number of biology-oriented activities, including the Hawaii Marine Institute, the Honolulu Zoo, the Foster Botanical Gardens and a tropical rain forest. The trip is planned from March 29 to April, 5, 2018. The cost of the trip will be covered by participants, although no student will be denied the opportunity to attend the trip because of financial hardship.

CHAIR’S REPORT

Chair Wade reported she attended the official community opening of the new BCAA playground at Marion Schilling Elementary on October 14. Despite the poor weather, the event was well attended.
